Imagine the pile of bucks at deer camp if the old-timers had a rifle like the new BROWNING X-BOLT PRO LR MCMILLAN® SPR. Not that there was anything wrong with the guns that Grandpa and Uncle Bud carried, but this is truly one hell of a fine hunting rifle.

At the heart of this rifle is the super-stiff McMillan® Game Scout 2.0 carbon fiber stock with aluminum pillar bedding for ultimate stability. The skip fluted barrel is shorter and threaded with suppressor use in mind. Even the receiver was fussed over to keep weight at a minimum without compromising strength. 60° bolt lift easily clears large scope turrets. The excellent Feather Trigger is easy to adjust and breaks like a pane of glass. Because this rifle is available in hard-hitting big game calibers, a Recoil Hawg muzzle brake is also included to stave off felt recoil.

With a standard feature set like the one found with the Browning X-Bolt Pro LR McMillan SPR you'll have to try to miss. Now is the time to pick one up for yourself and get ready to relive the glory days of deer camps of yore. And you might also want to consider a newer truck.
